FIDELITRADE® INCORPORATED

Trusted Bullion Services... Straight from the Source®

Educational Shorts

Precious Metals Insights, Facts, and Resources

Rare Silver Coins Discovered in Greece

Some of the rarest and most historic coins of ancient Greece were found in the city of Corinth in October. Corinth is about 60 miles southwest of Athens.

Three were silver staters minted at Olympia during the Olympic Games. The stater was a Greek silver currency. One coin depicted Hercules suffocating two snakes with his hands. Other coins depicted human faces, mythological figures, and animals. This treasure trove was found along with remnants of an important primeval aqueduct.

Silver coins dating back to the 6th century B.C. were some of the rarest ever discovered in modern Greece.

To learn more from our educational resources, visit us at FideliTrade.com.

Jennifer Ropiak is a precious metals market specialist with over 30 years' experience, including 20 years of trading (15 at Morgan Stanley). In 2014, Jennifer launched Trusted Partner Metals, an independent consultancy whose clients span the metals industry. Services include expert witness opinions in precious metals cases.

The information contained in this article is for educational and informational purposes only. The information is not intended as, and shall not be understood or construed as, financial advice, investment advice, legal advice, or other professional advice. The information is not a substitute for professional advice, and we strongly encourage you to contact a financial advisor if you have any questions about purchasing or selling bullion. Any reliance that you place on information provided is strictly at your own risk. We disclaim all liability and responsibility arising from any reliance placed on such information by you or by anyone who may be informed of any of its contents.